Hearing loss changes the dynamics in relationships, whether it's with a spouse, a child, a parent or a friend. It changes the way we socialize, the entertainment we attend and the hobbies we pursue. It also causes some of us to isolate ourselves. Hearing loss is not all bad, some good comes out of it, too. This meeting's open forum will start with questions to our panel of hearing family members and invite participation from the audience. Join us at the Sanderson Community Center on Saturday, March 16 and let's learn things together.
